

VOC Synthesis & Rewrite Blueprint

Cellulite×Lipedema — Research Synthesis + Rewrite Blueprint (advertorial + native copies)

Run: /tmp/cellu-lip-research/ (agent-1...5 full files). 5 lenses, ~150 verbatim quotes, all URL-cited.

DATA-QUALITY CAVEAT (read first)

Reddit hard-blocked all server-side fetch (curl `.json`, WebFetch, Firecrawl-scrape all hit the bot-wall). Agents harvested via Firecrawl `search` snippets = verbatim sentence FRAGMENTS + real thread URLs, plus fuller text from non-Reddit sources (Toronto Physio self-dx guide, getsnoovely.com, FB groups, Healthline, Instagram). So: themes = high confidence (5 agents converged independently); individual fragment quotes = verify the exact wording before pasting any one verbatim into final copy. The blueprint below is built on PATTERNS, not fragile single quotes — safe to build on.

THE GOLD — 6 convergent themes (the buying triggers)

1. "I just thought it was cellulite" — near-universal confession; realization is triggered by a NEW SENSATION (pain, a felt nodule, a photo), never by looks. → our cold-open.
2. The pain wedge (highest-converting): cellulite that HURTS — 7-lb cat paw, husband's hand, BP cuff "shards of glass," nodules escalating "rice → peas → cherries → rock hard." Cellulite doesn't hurt; this is the wedge.

3. Heaviness = trapped fluid: "wet concrete in water balloons," cement, sandbags, lead by 4pm → maps to fluid-trap spine; relief flip = "legs felt like feathers / LIGHTER."

4. Disproportion + shame: "two different bodies stitched at the waist," size 4 top/12 bottom, "cuff of fat above the ankle," wedding dress 3 tailors refused, 58 and never shows legs, "fantasized about cutting the fat off."

5. Medical gaslight villain (verbatim doctor lines): "you're just fat, eat less move more," "it's all in your head," "that's just how your fat sits," "some women are pear-shaped." 30+ years of it = rage multiplier.

6. Relief vocabulary, pre-sold: "my legs feel LIGHTER" (universal), cold/cooling already self-discovered (ice baths, cold showerhead), "I pee after = fluid was real," diuretics = #1 named failure, compression/foam-roller/massage-gun = "torture" (→ our gentle cooling roller is the white-space moat).

★ Competitor flag

getsnoovely.com (Snoovely) — LIVE direct competitor selling a lipedema "anti-cellulite" product on our EXACT fluid-trap thesis ("your fat isn't fat, it's drowning cells... weak connective tissue leaks fluid"), with dozens of testimonials in our relief vocab. Worth a teardown before launch.

The 60-second checklist (Agent 5, buyer's own words → quiz/lander device)

3+ yes = "behaves like a fluid problem, not cellulite":

1. Pinch the back of your thigh — does it HURT, like pressing a bruise? 2. Do your legs bruise from bumps you can't remember? 3. Much smaller on top than bottom — like two different people? 4. Lost weight everywhere EXCEPT your legs? 5. Legs heavy/achy by afternoon — sandbags, cement? 6. Does the fat stop at your ankles like a cuff/bracelet? 7. Press the fat — little lumps under it (rice/peas/beads)? 8. Has a doctor just told you to "lose weight" and it didn't fix your legs?

BLUEPRINT A — HOW TO REWRITE THE ADVERTORIAL

Frame: take Morning Vitality's aggression + Golden Tree's clean structure, run OUR fluid-trap villain and OUR 3-step mechanism, feed each section from the research above. Narrator = an insider/relatable woman (not a fake licensed MD). Claim ceiling: felt cooling / drainage / heaviness / look of legs — NEVER "cures lipedema or cellulite."

- # — Section — What goes here — Fed by
- 1 — Headline — "Why Your 'Cellulite' Hurts, Bruises, and Won't Budge — and the 60-Second Test That Explains It" (reframe, not cure-claim) — Theme 1+2
- 2 — Rage cold-open — System-villain rage in narrator voice: decades told "just cellulite / lose weight." MV-style "I'm about to upset some doctors." — Theme 5
- 3 — ALL-CAPS patient hook — One visceral real line ("I DON'T RECOGNIZE MY OWN LEGS") + the new-sensation trigger — Theme 1
- 4 — The wedge — it HURTS — Pain tells: cat/BP-cuff/husband's hand, bruising, cement-by-4pm, nodules. "Cellulite doesn't do that." — Theme 2,3
- 5 — Disproportion + shame — Two-bodies, size 4/12, ankle cuff, wedding-dress scene, hiding in summer — Theme 4
- 6 — Gaslight montage — Verbatim doctor dismissals + the "30 years stolen" anger — Theme 5
- 7 — The reveal (3rd party) — Vascular nurse/daughter/insider names it: FLUID, not fat. Valves weaken → leak → pools → swells fat cells (the dimpling) + presses nerves (the pain) — Theme 1, thesis
- 8 — Villain named — "THE LEAK" / slow-vein-flow / fluid-trap. "Mop the floor while the pipe's still leaking." — thesis
- 9 — Execute every alternative — creams (sit on top), dry brushing (sandpaper), compression (torture/red grooves), diuretics (strip magnesium, make it worse), laser — Theme 6
- 10 — 3-STEP MECHANISM — UNLOCK (menthol opens skin barrier, transdermal) → SEAL (horse chestnut 20% aescin tightens leaky veins) → DRAIN (centella + roller = at-home manual lymphatic drainage) — formula + thesis

- 11 — Timeline — wk1 LIGHTER → wk3 thumb-dent fades → wk6 dimpling softens, ache quiets — Theme 6
- 12 — Proof — testimonials in relief vocab ("lighter," "feathers," "I pee after"), # users, 0.x% refund flex — Theme 6
- 13 — Offer + guarantee + scarcity — $ anchor, 90-day "lighter or free," esculin-free (safe on blood thinners), limited stock — —
- 14 — Checklist / quiz — the 8-question 60-sec checklist as the qualifier (feeds best-ROAS quiz funnel) — Agent 5
- 15 — Footer — cosmetic disclaimer (not intended to diagnose/treat/cure) — compliance

BLUEPRINT B — HOW TO REWRITE NATIVE AD COPIES

Method (his Winner Standard): 1 scene-hook → "I did everything right" → pain wedge → gaslight villain → 3rd-party fluid reveal → UNLOCK/SEAL/DRAIN (compressed) → "LIGHTER" milestone → mirror resolution → offer+90day+esculin-free → CTA to advertorial/checklist. Staccato one-line paragraphs. MV aggression on the open + villain. Each copy LEADS with a different theme so we test angles:

- Copy 1 (flagship): Misdiagnosis-rage + pain wedge (built — see CELLU-LIP-FLAGSHIP-COPY file)
- Copy 2: Pinch-test / checklist open (quiz-native) → best-ROAS funnel
- Copy 3: Disproportion / wedding-dress / two-bodies
- Copy 4: Pure pain-wedge (BP cuff / husband's hand) → cooling-roller moat
- Copy 5: "What actually helped" / cold-bathtub → LIGHTER reveal

Each = one test cell. Dedup: do NOT reuse the 2 existing winners' exact framings (cat-on-lap "pressing a bruise"; "27 years developing cellulite creams").
